

ENVIRONMENTAL HISTORY AND NATURE IN BRAZIL

The course has an important scientific scope, seeking to aggregate in an interdisciplinary way, several topics such as history, biodiversity, nature conservation and sustainable development, among others. Environmental history in Brazil has developed significantly in the last twenty years and has become a reference in studies on Brazilian biodiversity, the largest on the planet.

OBJECTIVES

- To understand the role of nature and society issues in the Brazilian History;
- To learn about the different Brazilian ecosystems;
- To understand the concept of sustainable development and the different ways that it may be accomplished;
- To understand the processes that may drive development policies to cause environmental conflicts and how these conflicts may be dealt with both from preventive and restorative perspectives;
- To understand and experience Sustainability issues affecting riverside and indigenous populations.

TARGET PUBLIC

The target public involves undergraduate or graduate students from any field of life sciences.

DURATION

Two weeks

METHODOLOGY

The course will consist of theoretical lectures presenting introductory notions of the different issues, and of field trips to consolidate knowledge.

PROGRAM DATES

Any time of the year, according to student demand

BRAZILIAN LEGAL SYSTEM AND LEGAL LANGUAGE

The course has an important civil and legal aspect, in that it seeks to introduce legal Brazilian matters and vocabulary to foreign students, so they can become familiar with the Brazilian legal system on an introductory level as to instigate curiosity for students to seek further knowledge in the field and can eventually work or study in Brazil, or work for companies in their native countries that have business in Brazil.

OBJECTIVES:

- To understand basic Brazilian legal vocabulary;
- To comprehend the Brazilian judicial system;
- To understand the political system;
- To introduce the Brazilian constitution and aspects of society.

DURATION:

2 weeks

METHODOLOGY:

The course will consist of theoretical lectures presenting introductory notions to the different issues, and of field trips to consolidate knowledge.

PROGRAM DATES:

Any time of the year, according to student demand.

CONSUMERISM, CULTURE AND SUSTAINABILITY

The course 'Consumerism, culture and sustainability' approaches the contemporary global society through the social sciences' analysis of the culture of consumption. In search of understanding the role of consumption in people's everyday life, it appeals to consolidated theories in fields such as sociology, anthropology, economy and publicity. The course also encourages the debate about alternative economic responses and cultural shifts on the sustainability issue.

OBJECTIVES:

- To provide theoretical and methodological tools for different social agents towards a better understanding of the contemporary culture of consumption;
- To associate people from different backgrounds around the sustainability concern.

DURATION:

2 weeks

METHODOLOGY:

The lecture classes will be developed according to the following strategies: expository lessons, seminars, scheduled readings (directed study) and discussion in the classroom.

PROGRAM DATES:

Any time of the year, according to student demand.

BRAZILIAN BUSINESS

Doing business in Brazil requires specific knowledge of several areas that involve the construction of different organizational strategies, appropriate to the local reality. Thus, this scenario presents new business opportunities for investors around the world. The Brazilian Business course of UniEVANGÉLICA addresses specific topics in the business world in Brazil. These topics will give the students an overview of business in Brazil, enabling them to start their activities or, for those who already deal with business, to deepen their knowledge.

OBJECTIVES:

- To give the students a general view of business in Brazil;
- To give an overview of the social, cultural and economic aspects of the country;
- To understand and exercise negotiations through a cultural and social view point;
- To understand the dynamics of different industries and the Brazilian legislation;
- To show ways to build organizational and functional strategies for the Brazilian market.

DURATION:

2 weeks

METHODOLOGY:

The program is structured with lectures, researches, case studies, lectures and visits to companies in the city of Anápolis and region and a visit to Brasília.

PROGRAM DATES:

Any time of the year, according to student demand.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE TEACHING: CHALLENGES OF THE 21ST CENTURY

The importance of this course lies in offering a possibility for English language teachers to become critically aware of their role in society and in their classroom and their mission not just to teach this foreign language, but also to lead their students to reach the same awareness. Reflecting on English as an international language, the intertwined connection between language and culture, the intercultural approach in ELT, can greatly contribute to one's educational practices.

Objectives:

At the end of the course the individual should have a general understanding of English as an International Language; Language and Culture; Intercultural Approach; and Bilingualism.

Target public:

English language teachers want to further their studies or students who are in the process of getting their undergraduate degree.

Duration:

3 weeks

Methodology:

Expository classes that cover the topics proposed as well as discussions in study group format.

Program Dates:

May, June, July or January, according to student demand.

ABOUT US

Evangelical Educational Association (AEE), founded on March 31, 1947, is a private Law and non-profit institution, based in the city of Anápolis at the State of Goiás. Since the beginning of its activities, the Institution is based on Christian principles and, ethical and democratic values, maintaining the commitment of its founders.

Evangelical Education Association (AEE) maintains UniEVANGÉLICA – University Center, RaízesCollege, Goianésia Evangélica College and Couto Magalhães School in Anápolis, Couto Magalhães in Goianésia and Álvaro de Melo School in Ceres.

UniEVANGÉLICA University Center of Anápolis is considered one of the best Higher Education Institution of Goiás, currently offers Undergraduation and Graduation Courses and Master Degree to more than 17.000 students and counts with a well-recognized infrastructure with excellent libraries, modern laboratories and highly qualified Teaching Staff.

Characterized by its history and tradition, UniEVANGÉLICA aims to prepare students to develop leadership, critical thinking and ability to solve problems in a labor market that is innovative and competitive.

How to contact us?

International Academic Affairs Center

Marisa Mota da Silva Espíndola

International Academic Coordinator marisaespindola@unievangelica.edu.br

Luiz Eduardo Kruger Dias

Support on International Academic Affairs - Europe and Asia
luiz.dias@unievangelica.edu.br

Talita L. de Siqueira Lopes

Support on International Academic Affairs - North America/EducationUSA Advisor

Nadia Mariel Farias

Support on International Academic Affairs - Spanish and Portuguese Speaker Countries nadia.farias@unievangelica.edu.br

Andrea Herterich Suzana

Support on International Academic Affairs - Europe
andrea.suzana@unievangelica.edu.br

Lucimeiry S. Borges Antunes

International Academic Coordinator Assistant lucimeiry.antunes@unievangelica.edu.br

INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS CENTER - NAI
International Academic Affairs Coordination

Av. Universitária - km. 3,5 - Cidade Universitária - Anápolis - GO www.unievangelica.edu.br - Phone: (62) 3310 6818 - 3310 6824

SHORT TERM COURSES

